Subsidies But no Policies

T IS IRONIC THAT THE TEAM-A sters Union and freight truck operators should be circulating a petition against government subsidies to the railways when, of course, the whole trucking business already is heavily subsidized by the state. The railways have to lay their own rails and maintain them. The trucks use the roads built and maintained by the taxpayers.

But perhaps this petition is less ironic that the government's recent approach to the complex railway.

On November 28 last Prime Minister Diefenbaker, when compelling the railway unions to post-pone as intended strike until May 15 of this year, told the House of Commons: "I give the undertaking that on or before May 15 Parlia ment will be in a position to bring about, through legislation, the recommendations (of the MacPherson royal commission).

It is now nearly midsummer and nothing has been done to implement the broad proposals of the commission or make good Mr. Diefenbaker's pledge. All the government has accomplished so far is to pay the railway unions' latest wage increases out of the public treasury. For this purpose (though the gov-ernment said there would be no more subsidies of that sort) the treasury will give the railways $50 millions in the present year.

The railways knew, of course that they would be reimbursed by the government when they agreed to increase wages by 14 cents an The government has made good its private promises to the railway managers but it still has no railway policy problems. It proposed that they abandon redundant services, tear up tracks that are liftle used and thus effect great economies in their operating costs over a period of some dozen years. meanwhile, the Commission urged the government to pay them diminishing subsidies which should start in the first year at $97 millions.

The MacPherson Commission recommended such a policy not as

The new subsidy of $50 millions now granted to the railways is not for these purposes. It serves only to cover the new wage increase. And it diminishes the ability of the government, in its harrowing state of deficit, to do something basic and constructive about the railway

The question today is whether government ever intends to do anything basic and constructive. Is it prepared to let the railways liquidate their unprofitable services and abandon thousands of miles of unnecessary track?

Certainly it will require a high degree of courage in the government to permit such an upheaval in our transportation system. Many small communities between the Lakes and the Rockies must be damaged if the trains stop running, the local station and the grain ele-vator are closed. Some little villages may disappear altogether.

The alternative, however, is to maintain railway lines that can never earn their costs in areas where trucks can serve all the pub lic's needs; to maintain perpetual to the spring of 1961 without a word of subsidies which this year (with the criticism, a hint of disagreement. As CNR's deficits) must be not far short of $100 millions. What does short of $100 millions. What does the government intend to do about Will it tell us before the next

ONLY TIME CAN DETERMINE the permanent greatness of Ernest Hemingway. Certainly, while he lived, he was one of the two most influential figures in American letters during the genera-tion he shared with Thomas Wolfe.

His copyists were endless-the sincerest form of flattery any style-setter could be-given. Yet it was Hemingway's complaint that those who copied him, copied his faults, not his virtues.

In a style he developed medium which pumped tremendous vigor into his work, which sharpened the idiom of the day, and was executed in bold strokes — he brought up to date almost classical tragedy. But you can't blame Mr. Coyne too much for making it. After all, the government had backed him from the summer of 1957 Hutchison late as the spring of 1960 Mr. Fleming had repeated in Parliament the exact philosophy of the central bank, had philosophy of the central bank, had proudly renounced budget deficits, had condemned any further inflation of the currency and, in a classic of purest reason, had showed that the government would not and could not interfere with the international value of the Canadian deliar.

West's Worries

This is the setting in which the prob-lem of West Berlin is posed today. There are some who say that there would be no problem if Khrushchev had not deliberately and unnecessarily created one.

I am afraid they have not fully understood the problem. For while the Communists do not like the status quo in Berlin—showplace, propaganda, espionage, and escape hatch—the West also has a good deal to worry about. $2-A-Day Camping

May I express an opinion on the current controversy over the Provincial Parks Department decision to charge a fee of $2 per night to those who occupy a campsife for more than two nights, in several areas of the province?

Miracle Beach is the one which will, of course; affect a great number of people on the Island.

This is the old story, of course, of a few hogs who spoil it for all the others.

There are thousands of people living on Vancouver Island who have invested thousands of dollars, collectively, in thousands of dollars, collectively, in tents and camping equipment. To these prople a camping holiday is all they can afford, especially if they have several children. Most men who are steadily employed receive two weeks' holiday annually with pay, but they do not receive any extra money, and their household expenses go on just the same.

This new ruling will mean family wishing to camp, at Miracle Beach for two weeks, would have to pay $24 for the 12 nights over and above the two free nights allowed. To many people that $24 buys a week's groceries, or more. I feel that the very least they could have done was to allow people one full week free.

It is obvious that the government will have to employ several persons at each of the campsites to which this ruling applies to collect the fees, and therefore the money collected will, in turn, be paid out in salaries, so there is no point in suggesting that the money would be used to improve the

I, for one, can only hope that the Honorable Earl Westwood will receive enough protests, and suffer enough headaches, to make it worth his while to take that famous "second look A CAMPER.

I am sorry to see that the govern-ment has placed a $2 per day charge for camping facilities in certain parks.

Have they been influenced by pres sure from the motel operators? They are forcing non-affluent family campers to shift camp every two days. Are there that many eampsites available within reasonable distances of each

Reversal after reversal, contradiction piled on contradiction, irony stretched out of joint, are too much for a simple bank governor. In this downward vortex of repudiation he is swept away but at least is still on his feet while all around him are standing on their heads and gibbering incoherently.

There is increasing awareness that fringe benefits are non-taxable remuneration. This was brought home to the writer, a 63-year-old non-participating employee, by an item in the budget whereby an employer may charge as an operating expense a contribution to a new (savings) profit sharing plan, an amount which when added to his contribution, if any, under a registered pension plan does not exceed $1,500 per

This means that the government is willing to forfelt $750 in corporation tax per year, and I suppose we consumers pay the other half.

Further, the employees' payment of rsonal income tax on the above $1,500 ambassador may be right, and if all we can do is to stand firm and stand fast, almost surely the ambassador's pessimism will prove to have been right.

But there is no compelling reason but the pension and savings plans. Thus our government loans the employee the amount of the deferred that we should accent so desperate a recome tax on the above $1,380 (plus his own pension contribution) is not required until he receives his returns from the pension and savings plans. Thus our government loans the employee the amount of the deferred recome tax on the above $1,380 (plus his own pension contribution) is not required until he receives his returns from the pension contribution.

This analysis applies in part to other JOHN GILBERT.

indefinite future the two Germanys will not reunite, and to insist as a matter of positive Western policy, not as a shame faced concession to the Soviets, our new guarantee to meet this new situation, guarantees under which West Berlin can live confidently and in freedom until the day, now so remote, when it will again be the capital of Germany.

I noticed that the Sunday laws have been up for discussion again. It looks as though they may be rigidly enforced before long. If the enforcement is to be made in the name of religion, then it would seem a rather doubtful procedure. Should not true worship spring from the heart! How can it ever be worn by force?

Build your bank balance... Build your peace of mind

Unexpected expenses do happen. Things like dentist bills, doctor bills, car repairs and dozens of others. Often these expenses must be met immediately. Without an adequate bank balance ... well, many a good man feels a small flush of panic. You can avoid this. Make sure you always have at least two months' salary in the bank. Deposit regularly. Watch the balance build. Enjoy that new feeling of security ... the peace of mind that comes with money in the bank. Money in the bank has other advantages too. You pay bills easily, and on time. You capitalize on hydro and other utility discounts. You avoid charge account service fees. You take advantage of special sales. You establish credit for intelligent borrowing. But these are the extra benefits. More than anything else, money in the bank protects you from the unexpected. Build your bank balance and build your peace of mind. Start building next payday.

Hal Malone LOOKS AT SPORTS

Shortly after it was announced last winter that Courtenay was trying to lure the B.C. Lions away from their annual training froile at Kelowna, the foilowing letter appeared in the Kelowna Courier: "Dear Sir."

"I was quite arrased by a story . . regarding Courtenay trying to get the B.C. Lions to train there. "I lived in that area for 14 years and believe me the town could not accommodate any such organization as the First of all, the park (Lewis Field) is subject to tidal waters anywhere from a foot to three feet of water. The ground is always soft from continual rains and with the wind it is just not right for football.

"And there isn't a place or individual capable of handling the catering.
"There is very little amusement outside of a show a few drinking parlors. Courtenay is just a little town with big ideas and a mayor with the same ideas, little and big."

(Signed) "H. G. RANSOM."

Easily the 'Steal' of the Century

That should have been enough to deter the Lions from even considering Courtenay. But there was more. Dick Bedelothes, a Vancouver columnist, who knows everything, elly laughed the proposition, "Pure pablum," said the man who excels in it.

Mr. Ransom's feelings were understandable even if his statements reeked of inaccuracy. A former employee of the City of Courtenay, it may be that he nourished no particular good will for the borough from the day he and Mayor. Bill Moore had an understanding which meant a reduction the city's payroll.

Mr. Bansom and Mr. Bedclothes didn't know it, but in suggesting that Bill Moore couldn't do something they were barking up the wrong balsam. They were—the Lions moved into Courtenay July 1 for 16 days.

Father of four, Moore is 37, personable, fun-loving and determined. He was elected an MLA at 27, has been mayor for four years and probably could have the job forever if he wants it. They say every political party in B.C. wanted him to run-in the last provincial election and that it would have been no contest regardless of whether he was LPP. 10U or NSF.

Stealing the Lions from Kelowna doesn't rank with the Brinks holdup. Kennedy's wresting of the presidency from Nixon or Elizabeth Taylor's grab of Eddle Fisher from Debbie Reynolds. But almost.

Reynolds. But almost.

Kelowna was a known factor, Courtenay wasn't. Keloa happens to be the birthplace of Lions general manager Herb Capozzi, over whose prostrate body estensibly the Lions would have to be moved.

Why Hotelmen Suffer Heart Attacks

Little things like that didn't stop Mr. Moore. Right Little things like that didn't stop Mr. Moore. Right from the moment Lions' halfback By Bailey, a frequent habitue of Courtenay's, fishing grounds, whispered: "The Lions can be talked out of Kelowna—it's too hot (often 90 to 100) to train and the town doesn't really care whether we come ov not." Moore went to work.

He offered the Lions "everything Kelowna gave you and anything else ... within reason." He argued that they were the B.C. Lions, not the Kelowna Lions. President Ralph Henderson, head coach Wayne Robinson and line coach Ken snyder agreed to look.

Their inspection was minute, detailed. They sank shovels into Lewis Field. They tested the fare at the Arbuel and then

We went up to one of the rooms Snyder, the hotel manager and myself," Moore recalls, "Robinson said: Try one, Lum'—that's Snyder's name. Snyder made a flying tackle onto the bed. He's a big guy, 'way over 200 pounds. I thought he was going to drive it into the basement, I could feel the manager quiver. Then Snyder pulled himself up and drawled... 'Man, that's a g-o-od bed!'

Presumably convinced that if Snyder couldn't demolish the beds none of the other Lions could either, the hotel agreed to bed and feed the 60 man team for $5,400 for 16 days.

Buses? Walk? Not on Your Life!

Other problems were encountered and solved. The "tidal waters" referred to by letter-writer Ransom wasn't one of them. "We get maybe 12-18 inches of water on one corner of the field in the middle of winter," said Moore. "I only wish there was some way I could save it to sprinkle the field in summer.

Laundry was another ticklish problem. The Lions work twice daily, use two complete sets of clothing right down

'I will never forget," Moore says, "the day I walked into the local laundry and asked the manager if he could cope with the Lions' gear. He wasn't too excited at first. Then I rattled off the list 240 pairs of socks, 120 athletic supports, etc. He nearly fell off his chair. He said he could do it so I got out of there before he changed his mind."

Moore recalled an incident which suggests that Courtenay's lack of "amusements" is not likely to bother coach

Going over last minute arrangements, Robinson noted that Moore had listed "buses."

"To carry the players from the hotel to the field and said Moore

How far is it." asked Robinson,

Four blocks," said Moore. "You going to make them

Walk, hell," said Robinson. "They'll run. Both ways," It should be an interesting training camp.

on each hand are the thumb and foretinger. They exert the most control and maintain the closest relationship, the most pronounced feel of accord with the club. The others, with the exception of the little fingers—which play almost no part—help control the club and establish rapport to a lesser degree.

The forefingers have been pulled trigger fingers. In the though they were going to pull the trigger on pistols in a western, while the thumb rests lightly, on each hand, against the top joint of the for finger. This forms a V on the shaft of the club with the sion or tightness. Don't be shaft of the club with the sion or tightness. It takes a special man or woman to meet the challenge of a dental career. He must be willing to spend long hours, both in training and every day after he receives his doctor's degree. He must have sound judgment sense, and a physical dexterity to perform the tasks required of him. And he must have a sincere sympathy for, and urge to help, his fellow man.

This is the dentist's lifetime duty: the care and protection of his community. And from his community, he will enjoy the rewards of his efforts: the satisfaction of healing, recognition by his neighbours, patients, and fellow doctors, and the opportunity to help more and more people as time goes on.

The wheel around and around, The wheel turns a shaft and the shaft turns the moving parts of the generator. In place of Faraday's copper disk, the modern generator has an armature, a massive wad of coils using maybe 30 miles of copper wire. The magnetic field comes from an electromagnet, maybe two miles of copper wire wound around iron cores. The wires of the electromagnet carry an electric current which, like a magnet, are surrounded by the invisible lines of force which make a magnetic field.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronte, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve—pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while goally relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking itaprovement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

Bennett Asked to Set Probe

The board of management of the University of British Columbia Alumni Association has given support to the request of the Okanagan - Mainline Regional Planning committee on higher education for an immediate royal commission investigation into higher education in the province.

Main purpose of the probe would be to establish an overall control policy now that other institutions of higher learning are developing outside Vancouver.

Association president Dr. W. C. Gibson said today he has sent a letter to Premier Bennett endorsing the committee's request made to the premier

A committee statement is sued through the UBC information office here said an in dependent royal com probe was needed immediately "due to the urgency of the higher education situation in British Columbia and to avoid haphazard development."

The Okanagan committee wired the premier following a meeting in Vernon in June under the chairmanship of Dr. E. M. Stevenson of Vernon.

New Parley Thursday

MONTREAL (CP) - A strike against Trans-Canada Air Lines has been called for July 21.

Robert R. Smeal of Vancou ver, business agent for the Canadian Air Line Flight Attendants' Association (CLC), said today TCA's 800 pursers and stewardesses will be on strike at one minute past midnight on that date.

He said picket lines will be established at all TCA bases across the country.

A spokesman at TCA head-quarters in Montreal said the company "fully intends to con-tinue operating its services despite the strike date."

Officials announced a meet-ing will be held on Thursday in an effort to avert the strike. WANT JET PAY

Negotiations between TCA and the flight attendants' association collapsed last Wednesday with the two sides pay for attendants on jet and turbo-prop airliners.

The union wants attendants given credit for 10 minutes' extra flying time on each hour spent on a DC8 jet flight and five minutes on a turbo-prop Vanguard.

It says the attendants have to do more work faster on those aircraft than on the older piston-engined airliners. Flight attendants now earn $335 to $430 a month for 75 900 000 000 0 1 0 to 85 hours on domestic flights.
